

Your First Instinct Is To Pull Them Open...

but Montana Rustic doors open and close overhead, from the comfort of your car.

And they install just like the steel door down the street.

We'll compliment any odd-sized request with the operational hardware to match and deliver anywhere in the country.

Our doors ship unfinished. To best match your exterior, staining or painting should be done onsite.

Our customer service team will walk you or your contractor through everything you need to know about protecting and installing your door for a lifetime of convenient service and compliments.

See how our doors will improve your home before you purchase!

Just send us a digital photo (JPEG) or a print photograph of your home. We'll insert a Montana Rustics door and send you back a digital or hard copy picture illustrating the improvement. And in no time at all you'll enjoy that "Welcome Home" feeling.

Call us to explore all of the options and answer any of your questions.

Wood With A Resume

Yesteryear's lumber brings decades of natural weathering and stories we'd love to hear.

Reuse incredibly stout fir from the original Seagram's Brewing building. Or...

- Trestle Salt-Wood from the Salt Lakes Railroad
- Heinz Pickle Barrel Wood
- Recycled Wyoming Snow Fence
- Montana Barn Wood
- Reclaimed Exotic Teak

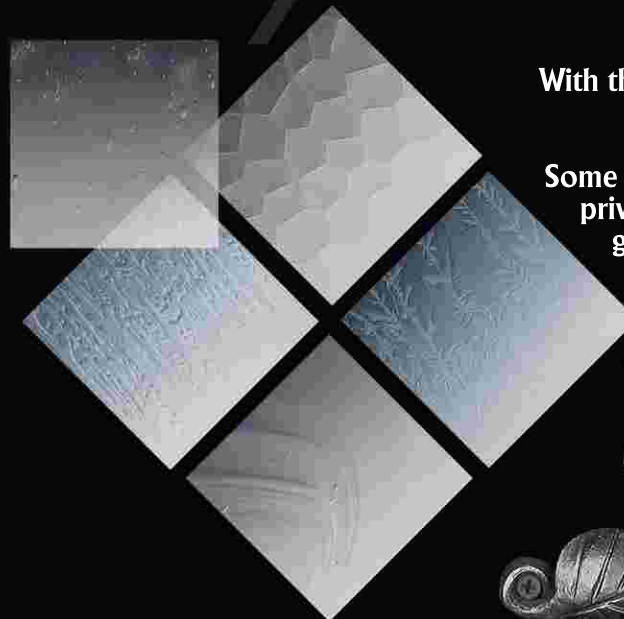

The list goes on...

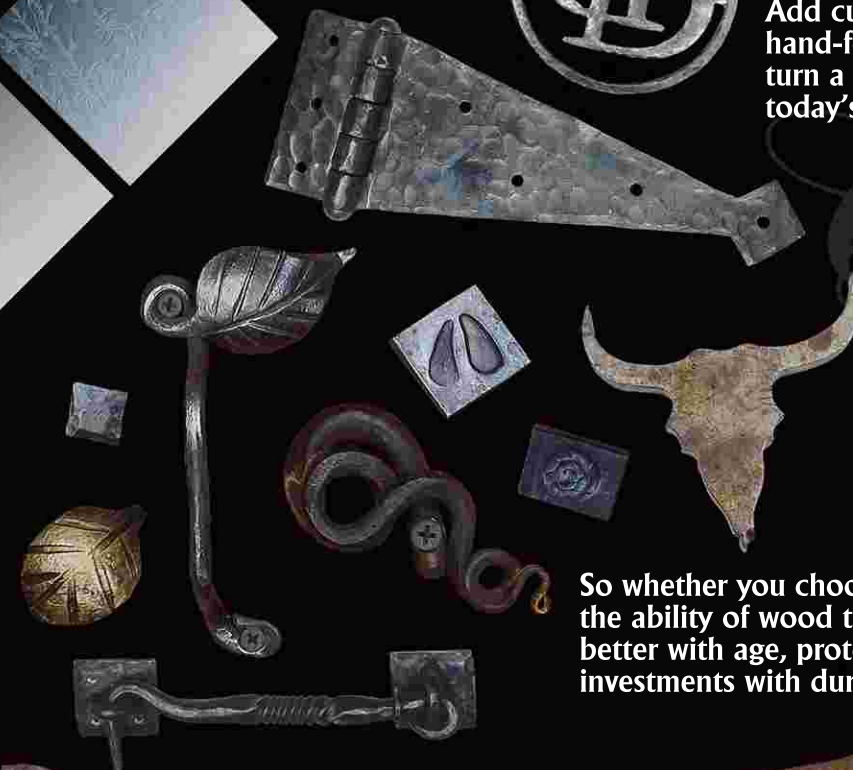

Inspired

With the proper finish, these pieces of the past are ready to serve the next generation.

Some of our vintage, privacy inspired glass options.

Add custom decorative hand-forged hardware to turn a long-ago reality into today's functional elegance.

Choose

Choose from our collections or work with our design team to invent an eye-appealing solution to finish off an existing structure...

or create an idea to build around.

Select new, striking, sturdy wood from our extensive list, or truly touch the past with our experienced, reclaimed and recycled woods.

Custom

The exclusive branded signature of the artisan assures the individuality of each design.

So whether you choose to reuse or start anew, the ability of wood to blend with nature and better with age, protects your two biggest investments with durable grace.

And no one believes their eyes when you gently tap your remote...
